

Woodland Winds Quintet

The Woodland Winds is a Woodwind Quintet based in The Woodlands, Texas. The group comprises five talented musicians: Susan Daniell on flute, Kristin Sarvela on oboe, Michael Woods on clarinet, Mark Collado on French horn, and Jacob Fernandez on bassoon. Together, they collaborate to create a unique and vibrant woodwind quintet soundscape, expanding their repertoire beyond the standard quintet pieces to include popular and seasonal music.

Founded in 2017 by Susan and Mark, the Woodland Winds quickly gained recognition in the local music scene. The Woodland Winds have made a significant impact through their performances at various local chamber concert series, showcasing their versatility and artistry. They have also collaborated with The Woodlands Symphony and performed at prestigious venues such as Minute Maid Park (home of the Houston Astros), the Texas Music Educators Association's annual convention, and other events, further solidifying their reputation as an outstanding ensemble.

Beyond their work as the Woodland Winds, each member is actively involved in professional Symphony Orchestras and Concert Bands within the region. Their collective experience and expertise contribute to the group's exceptional musicianship and polished performances.
